Frequently Asked Questions

What's the difference between the CASAC and the CPP/CPS?

The CASAC is intended for individuals who provide alcoholism and substance abuse COUNSELING services in approved work settings. The CPP and CPS are intended for individuals who provide alcohol and substance abuse PREVENTION services.

Can I hold both credentials?

Yes, but only work experience hours devoted to alcoholism and substance abuse counseling (i.e., Diagnostic Assessment; Evaluation; Intervention; Referral; and Alcoholism and/or Substance Abuse Counseling in both Individual and Group Settings) will be considered toward satisfying the CASAC requirements. Only work experience hours devoted to alcohol and substance abuse prevention services (i.e., Planning and Evaluation; Education and Skill Development; Community Organization; Public and Organizational Policy; and Professional Growth and Responsibility) will be considered toward satisfying the CPP/CPS requirements.

How much does it cost to apply for a credential?

The Application Processing fee is $100.

How long is my application good for?

Applications remain active for five years from the date of postmark. Review the CASAC credentialing process and the CPP/CPS credentialing process for more information.

If I have been convicted of a felony, can I still become credentialed?

Conviction of a crime is not, in and of itself, a ban to becoming credentialed. However, the criminal offense or offenses for which you have been previously convicted may affect your fitness or ability to perform one or more duties or responsibilities related to the credential. As part of the Application process, you will be required to provide information relative to the conviction to be considered as part of the review of your application.

Where do I get the education and training to become credentialed?

OASAS will consider education and training obtained through accredited colleges or universities; governmental agencies; professional organizations; training institutes; or in-service training programs. OASAS's Training Calendar includes OASAS training, as well as those providers and courses, which have been reviewed and approved by OASAS as acceptable to satisfy initial and/or renewal credentialing requirements for the CASAC, CPP and CPS.

How long is my credential good for?

Each credential is valid for a period of three years and will expire on your date of birth. Review CASAC AND CPP/CPS renewal information for additional details.

How do I apply for a CASAC trainee certificate?

CASAC Trainee certificates are obtained through the CASAC initial credentialing application process. OASAS's Credentialing Unit will review your CASAC Application to determine whether you have satisfied the requirements to sit for the CASAC written examination. If during this review process, it is determined that you have satisfied the requirements associated with CASAC Trainee certification, you will be issued a certificate.

Does a CASAC Trainee certificate mean that I'm a Qualified Health Professional?

No! The CASAC Trainee certificate serves as documentation that you are working toward becoming a CASAC. In addition, CASAC Trainees may be counted toward the Qualified Health Professional staffing requirement in specific OASAS-certified chemical dependence treatment programs only. The CASAC Trainee certification will not authorize you to be considered a Qualified Health Professional for any purpose other than that stated above.

How much does it cost to take the CASAC written examination?

The examination fee is $200 (this includes one written examination and one CPM oral examination).

How much does it cost to take the Prevention written examination?

The examination fee is $215.

Are there any study resources available to help me on the examinations?

There are a number of study materials available for both the CASAC and Prevention examinations. Study guides for the Prevention examination can be purchased through the ICRC/AODA by calling (703) 294-5827.

How long will it be before I get the results from my examination?

You will receive the results from your examination within six weeks after the date of the examination.

How long will it be before I'm scheduled for my CPM oral examination?

You will be scheduled for your CPM oral examination approximately three months after you are notified that you have passed the CASAC written examination.

Will OASAS accept my personal check?

No. All fees must be made payable to NYS OASAS in the form of a certified check or money order. Personal checks will not be accepted and will be returned. This will only delay your application process or other paperwork.

How will I know when it's time to renew my credential?

A renewal application will be sent to you at least 120 days prior to the expiration date of your credential. Review CASAC and CPP/CPS renewal information for additional details.

What happens if my credential expires?

Once your credential has expired, you may not identify yourself as a credentialed counselor or credentialed prevention practitioner. If fewer than two years have elapsed since the expiration date of your credential, you may submit a written request to OASAS to reapply for the credential through the late renewal process. Review CASAC and CPP/CPS renewal information for additional details.
